It is a dangerous and costly mistake not to take temptation seriously. God does not tolerate evil, for evil cost the death of His Son. Sin causes untold pain and destruction to everyone it touches. There are times, when you must remove yourself from ungodly influences, so you must remove yourself from temptation. Paul urges us to avoid every kind of evil (I Thess. 5:22) When Joseph was enticed to commit adultery by his master’s wife, he fled immediately (Gen.39:12)

Do not lose your abhorrence of sin. Be diligent to keep any form of temptation out of your home, out of your relationships, out of your mind. You will not be able to walk closely with God unless you see sin as He sees it. Darkness and light cannot coexist. Run from the darkness to the light!
